600 Million Cut From Foreign Aid Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) said today the House Foreign Affairs Committee cut "too close for comfort" in voting to trim $600 million dollars from foreign aid requests.

Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) said "I don't think the present cuts will harm the program."

The committee expects to complete work Monday on President Eisenhower's request for a $3,865,000,000 foreign aid program for the fiscal year starting July 1. The cuts from that amount voted yesterday were 400 millions deeper than the senate had gone on the same items.

The group pared 400 millions from the $1,900,000,000 Eisenhower asked for arms aid next year and 200 millions from the 900 millions he sought for "defense support," which is economic aid to buttress defense systems of America's allies.

The committee also turned down key portions of requested long-term aid authority which Eisenhower said should be adopted to allow sounder long-range planning for the complicated overseas assistance program.

Vorys noted in an interview that Congress last year knocked about $1,200,000,000 off the $4,000,000,000 which Eisenhower sought.

But this year Vorys said the administration came in with a request already a billion dollars lower and the 600 million dollar cutback would be relatively more serious. "It's too close for comfort, both for military aid and for defense support," he said.

By way of long-term authority, Eisenhower wanted permanent authorization for a military and defense support program without fixed ceilings and a three-year, two billion dollar economic development loan fund for which 500 million dollars would be provided the first year.

The committee instead:

1. Voted for a no-ceilings authorization for military aid for just one future fiscal year, starting July 1, 1958, so next year's arms aid request could be included in the regular defense budget.
2. Rejected completely an authorization for defense support beyond the coming 12-month period.
3. Approved for the local development fund only the 500 million dollars Eisenhower asked for the first year, leaving out authority for the 1 billion he sought for the following two years.

Court-Martial Deliberations Start Today

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The 10-man court-martial of Col. John C. Nickerson Jr. was expected to begin deliberating its verdict today after taking testimony from the commanding general of the Army ballistic missile agency.

The defense rested its case at midday yesterday. It had presented only four of the 14 witnesses it had planned to call.

Shortly thereafter Lt. Col. William G. Barry, the prosecutor, announced that the government would rest after Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris testified. Presumably the court-martial would retire to fix punishment when Medaris leaves the stand.

Nickerson, 41-year-old West Pointer, pleaded guilty at the outset of the trial to 15 counts of laxity in handling secret defense data. He would be dismissed from the service and imprisoned for 30 years if given the maximum sentence.

Medaris was expected to testify as to Nickerson's capabilities as an officer. He was Nickerson's superior before the case was made against the colonel.

Nickerson and others have given considerable testimony on what they said in the Air Force's effort to take over the Army's long range ballistic missile program. In testimony yesterday, Nickerson said he believed the Air Force would accept an inferior ballistic missile before it would buy what he termed the Army's better one. "Their basic interests, the future they're seeking for themselves is outlined by the money and jobs they expect to get in the aircraft industry," Nickerson testified. "This is especially true in the Air Force."

Stassen Not Hurried Over Red Pressure

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Delegate Harold E. Stassen appeared unmoved today by increasing Soviet pressure to lay all his disarmament cards on the table at once.

Despite the Russians' impatience, Stassen indicated he would continue to set forth the new U.S. disarmament plan "bit by bit" at the London meeting of the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin told the five-nation group yesterday Russia would have to know the complete American plan before agreeing to the appointment of working groups to map details for an arms reduction treaty. He urged Stassen to speed up his presentation.

Stassen replied that it would take a number of days for him to outline the plan formulated May 25 by President Eisenhower and his top advisers. Western officials said the presentation has been slowed by the need for prolonged consultation among the Western Allies.

There also was speculation the United States was taking its time in the hope of dissipating the propaganda advantage Russia won two weeks ago with its offer to let U.N. inspectors into Soviet territory to oversee a moratorium on nuclear tests.

Stassen said the fact that agreement on a partial arms reduction treaty is now in sight after 11 years of disagreement makes it even more vital that the subcommittee not attempt to move too fast at this stage.

Woman Shot, Man Tries Suicide

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A 49-year-old automobile mechanic shot and gravely wounded his wife and then tried unsuccessfully to commit suicide with a family pistol, police said today.

Patrolman Joe Dodd said that he found the woman lying in a hallway of the Woods home. He related that Woods came in a short time later and said that he had gone to a nearby service station to get his son, Don, 17.

An old-fashioned .32 caliber pistol was lying on a kitchen table, Dodd said, and Woods told the officer that he had used it to shoot his wife. There was an empty shell in the pistol and two other shells apparently had misfired.

Jonesboro Names New CC Manager

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—J. Ray Fogle, head of the Research and Science Dept. of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, just night was elected manager of the Jonesboro Chamber. President Ray Worthington said today. He will assume his duties here July 15. Fogle, 27, a former Arkansas State College football player, will succeed J. W. Perry who has accepted a similar position at Mobile, Ala.

Oregon Mayor Acquitted on Perjury Charge

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Portland Mayor Terry Schrunk was acquitted yesterday on a charge of perjury but he still faces a long battle to clear his name.

A State Circuit Court jury deliberated less than two hours before deciding unanimously that the 44-year-old mayor had not lied to a vice probing grand jury when he denied taking a gambler's bribe.

It is believed that the charge of bribery against Schrunk may be dropped now, but State Atty. Gen. Robert V. Thornton, who is in charge of the prosecution of Portland's vice cases, could not be reached for comment immediately.

Three other charges, stemming from the year-long vice probe of this City of 415,000, have been filed against the mayor, accusing him of illegally copying a wiretap, conspiracy to obtain a wiretap and subornation of perjury. Trial dates for these charges have not been set.

Schrunk maintains that the accusations against him are part of a plot by gamblers who feared his election as mayor would drive them out of business. Much of the testimony presented at the 10-day trial here was a repetition of that heard in Washington, D. C., last March when the Senate committee investigated what it said was labor racketeering in Portland.

Portland gambler big Jim Elkins was a star witness at the hearings and testified that another Portland gambler, Clifford O. Benet, told him he had paid a $500 bribe to Schrunk in September 1955. Schrunk was county sheriff at the time and had ruled Benet's club. The payoff, Elkins said, was made so Schrunk would not arrest the club's patrons.

At the hearings and at his trial Schrunk said the bribe story was a frame-up.

The defense made it a point to show that many of the prosecution's 23 witnesses were indebted to Schrunk in one way or another and that others had criminal backgrounds. This apparently helped sway the jury of nine women and three men, one of whom told Schrunk after the verdict was announced, "we were with you all the way."

Supersonic Jets Ranging Over Korea

By CHARLES CHIN

SEOUL (AP)—Sleek supersonic American jet fighter planes ranged over South Korea today, one week after the U. N. Command announced it was bringing in new arms to match the Communist military buildup in North Korea.

But the U.S. Air Force quickly announced that the aircraft—banned by the 1953 armistice—would not be based in Korea. They will fly over on "training" flights and return to their Japanese bases, landing in South Korea only for refueling or in emergencies.

The first of the new planes sighted were four faster-than-sound F100 Super Sabre jets, which flashed over Seoul shortly after midday. Flights of other modern fighters and bombers were expected later.

The U.S. Air Force announced that "all types of aircraft now in use by the 5th Air Force (based in Japan) are or will be flying the skies and using the airways of South Korea."

The announcement emphasized that the flights were "of routine training nature" and said the planes "flying these missions were not assigned to Korean bases but were using these bases as needed in their training."

Word that the new planes would continue to operate from their Japanese bases came as a surprise. Previous U. N. Command statements had indicated that the planes would be based in Korea so they could retaliate quicker in the event of a Communist attack.

There was no immediate reaction from South Korean officials, who have been urging that atomic weapons be given to their forces as well as to the Americans in South Korea.

Independent Grocers Plan an Alliance

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A cooperative of independent grocers in Arkansas will be formed to obtain wholesale supplies at lower cost, it was disclosed here yesterday.

A. B. Corder, president of the Associated Wholesale Grocers of Arkansas, Inc., said 45 Model Market owners have voted to join the co-op and an eventual membership of about 500 is the goal. Corder said the independent status of store owners would not be affected.

No More Telecasts of House Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex.) said today following a conference with Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) that there will be no more telecasts of hearings by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Walter is chairman of the committee. He also headed a subcommittee whose hearings in San Francisco last week were telecast in the face of Rayburn's previous ban against radio or television coverage of House committee meetings.

When Rayburn returned today from a visit to Texas, newsmen asked him if he had talked to Walter.

"Yes, I talked to Mr. Walter," Rayburn said. "He's not going to televise anything else, subcommittee or full committee, anywhere."

He said that Walter called on him this morning.

No Easements of Tax, Credit Curbs Seen

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

A Senate-House Economic subcommittee, 3-2 Democratic, declared in a formal report yesterday that inflation poses "a grave economic problem" which does not warrant easing of tax burdens or credit curbs until government spending is "substantially" reduced.

The report ran counter to contention of Senate Finance Committee Democrats that the Eisenhower administration's tight money policies and higher interest rates are hurting the economy and hobbling business. They have sought to buttress those contentions in questioning Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey at a committee hearing into money policies.

The subcommittee, chaired by general tax reduction, "before the middle of next year, called on Congress and the administration to 'face up squarely to the problem of inflation.'"

"Failure to deal with it forthrightly will result in increasing hardships for millions of Americans," the subcommittee said.

The report followed by a few hours a new declaration by President Eisenhower that there is real danger of inflation if industry and labor fail to curb their demands for price and wage increases.

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday that unless both sides show statesmanship in the period ahead, inflation constitutes a real threat to the economy of the nation.

Republicans on the Senate Finance Committee welcomed the subcommittee report as backing the administration's efforts against inflation.

Sen. Benet (R-Utah) told a reporter that the subcommittee headed by Rep. Mills (D-Ark.) appeared to have conducted its hearings "in an absence of politics."

Humphrey testified yesterday he saw no reason to think interest rates will go up indefinitely.

"You have pressures in one direction and then countervailing pressures in another direction," he said. "There is every reason to believe there will be fluctuations as we move forward."

Doctors Rap Faubus Over Cancer Aid

TEXARKANA (AP)—The acceptance of federal cancer aid funds by Gov. Orval Faubus was called "a step toward socialized medicine" by a group of physicians and a state legislator three yesterday.

A resolution protested Faubus' acceptance of a bill which would have provided $50,000 for state cancer clinics. The governor was urged to reconsider before Monday, when his request for federal funds becomes final.

Faubus is attending the National Governors Conference at Williamsburg, Va. Arnold Sikes, his chief administrative assistant, said Faubus' move was made so that "a greater amount of funds would be available to cancer patients."

Jap Official to End U. S. Visit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Prime Minister Kishi is ending his American visit today, leaving a declaration that a long as he heads the government of Japan "she will never side with totalitarianism."

He arrived from New York yesterday to a civic welcome and to address a capacity crowd of 1,000 at the Biltmore Hotel at a banquet last night arranged by the Los Angeles World Affairs Council.

Clean or Dirty Bomb Is a Bomb

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If we're lucky, in a few years we may have a nice, clean bomb which will kill just a few million people at a time, with no bad after-effects.

President Eisenhower said it may take four or five years to get an "absolutely" clean bomb. But we're in a pickle.

We're negotiating with the Russians to stop all nuclear tests. If we do that before we learn how to make clean bombs—we're going to be stuck with a bunch of old, dirty bombs in case another war comes.

A clean bomb is one which kills only those in range of the heat and blast, with no radioactive fallout. A dirty bomb kills in the immediate area with heat and blast and then kills people miles away through radioactivity carried on the winds.

So if we used dirty bombs on the Russians we'd finish a lot of them, for sure, but the winds might carry the radioactivity across Europe, killing our allies too.

Since we're in for the same thing if the Russians attack us with their dirty old bombs—before they learn how to clean them up—it might seem worthwhile to teach them how to make clean ones.

That would make it possible for us and the Russians to kill each other in a nicer way.

Those who watched Eisenhower yesterday at his news conference said he spoke with obvious enthusiasm when he told of the possibility of clean bombs in another four or five years.

He said two eminent scientists, Ernest O. Lawrence and Edward Teller, told him about it. Nevertheless, he said, this country would stand by its offer to the Russians to end nuclear test now—under certain conditions.

But the Russians—judging from what they've said in the past about those conditions—may consider them completely impossible. So there's a good chance this country will go right on testing, trying for a clean bomb.

Not all scientists, however, agree with Lawrence and Teller. On May 27 Alvin C. Graves, a scientist at the Los Alamos atomic laboratory, told Congress there can be no such thing as a "completely clean" H-bomb.

Eisenhower, in the midst of his enthusiasm, said a clean bomb comes "completely military in its application. If you use it on the battlefield, you will have an effect only so far as its blast and heat waves reach."

This might indicate Eisenhower thinks in another war soldiers could make it a private fight among themselves, out in the country somewhere, away from cities where civilians might get hurt.

But a gray-haired grandmother who is also a newspaperwoman, Mrs. May Craig, recalled that the bomb was used in the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, killing over 100,000 people. She asked: "Our first atomic bomb was dropped on a city. When you speak of battlefields in a nuclear age, what do you mean?"

That stopped Eisenhower. He said he couldn't answer.

The bomb dropped on Hiroshima was equivalent to 15,000 tons of TNT. But this country by 1954 had built a bomb—and used it in a test—equivalent to 15 million tons of TNT. The Russians, no doubt, are making them just as big.

By setting out to make the biggest possible bomb, we seem to have saved the pants off our selves. Now we are hoping for the age of the clean bomb.

Such a weapon would let us—and the Russians too, if they had it or are interested—kill just as many people as we want to at any one time. We could get around to others later. But they'd have to wait their turn.

We may be more civilized than the Russians. For all we know, they may be content to go on making the same old dirty bombs unless we tell them how to be more gentele.

Fish Experiment for State Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Commerce subcommittee will consider a proposal by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) to set up an experimental station in Arkansas to study commercial fish raising on flooded rice lands.

Under Fulbright's bill the Agriculture Department would establish the program in cooperation with the University of Arkansas. Interests in Arkansas say that fish could be raised as an alternate crop on idle rice acreage.

Chairman Magnuson (D-Wash.) of the committee said subcommittee members will be Sen. Vawter (D-Tex.) Lausche (D-Ohio) and Cotton (D-N.Y.). The hearing is scheduled July 8.

Housing Bill Passes the House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed without debate or opposition a compromise $1,675,000,000 omnibus housing bill providing a variety of home construction aids.

The bill, worked out by Senate-House conferees after the two branches passed different measures, now goes to the Senate. House action was by voice vote.

A-Bomb Failed to Fire, Must Dismantle

By COLIN MCKINLAY

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (UP)—An atomic device short-circuited and failed to fire today, forcing a three-man team of scientists to climb a 500-foot tower to disarm the dud.

Atomic Energy Commission officials experience a tense hour as they were forced to commit five men, two at the base of the tower, to the task of pulling the firing pin. None of the five could be sure but what the slightest jar would activate the nuclear fission that would vaporize the tower and them.

It was to have been the sixth atomic experiment of the 1957 test series. But the mis-firing at 4:45 a.m. (PDT) threw the AEC into a tizzy.

American and foreign correspondents were on the scene to watch at first hand from News No. 14 miles from the blast area. Some newsmen were in trenches along two miles from ground zero. A group of 17 radiation experts were in a steel dugout. But, much to the surprise of all, no one was hurt.

All but the men in the dugout had to be hastily evacuated.

Then the AEC had to choose its team from among the volunteers for whom such a contingency is "part of the job."

It was the second mis-firing in the history of the Nevada proving grounds experiments where 50 other blasts have been triggered. On Oct. 19, 1951, a mechanical fault in a key electrical circuit caused a non-detonation.

On May 20, 1952, another shot was prevented from detonating by a built-in electrical check that stopped the firing sequence before the arming mechanism was activated. It was not a mis-firing such as today's, however.

"Failure of power to reach the device" was the official explanation given by the AEC for today's misfire.

The five heroes of the disarming party were Walter Arnold, Livermore, Calif., and Edward R. Tucker, of the firm of Edgerton, Gernhausen and Grier—both of whom stayed on the ground—and Forest Fairbrother and Bernard Rubin, both of Livermore, and Robert Burton, of the Sandia laboratory, Albuquerque, N. Mex. The latter three were the climbers. They made the exhausting and terrifying climb rung by rung, laden with heavy equipment.

It took them the better part of three-fourths of an hour to make the climb but only minutes to disarm the device by pulling its electric lines loose from the cabin it was hoisted in. They started up at 7:30 a.m. and reported "device disarmed" at 8:15 a.m.

U. S. Chamber Ends 37th Annual Meet

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The United States Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday concluded its 37th annual convention in a flurry of action that included the election of officers and presentation of awards to chapters and individuals.

Charles F. Shearer, 34, an attorney from Shelbyville, Ind., was named president following a two-hour campaign battle before 6,000 young men and women in the Milwaukee arena.

Shearer succeeds Wendell H. Ford of Owensboro, Ky. The new president is married and the father of two daughters. His community activities include the Community Fund, Boys' Club, Cerebral Palsy Fund and the Boy Scouts.

A total of 16 communities received Clarence H. Howard awards for their betterment drives, best among communities of their own size. First place winners in the four divisions included Russellville, Ark., population 15,000.

Among vice presidents elected was Dixie Lynch, Kansas City, Mo.

Ike Instructs Aides to Keep Close Touch

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower instructed aides to keep him in closest touch today with rescue and relief efforts in hurricane-ravaged southwest Louisiana.

The President, spending the weekend at his farm home, arranged to receive telephoned reports from Washington after directing federal officials last night to place all available government facilities at the disposal of those dealing with the tragedy.

Eisenhower sent Val Peterson, former federal civil defense administrator, to the hurricane area for a survey of the damage and a speedy report on how much relief money may be needed. Army units also provided supplies and helped civil defense and other workers in rescue and cleanup operations.

Presidential declaration of a major disaster to qualify the area for such aid was indicated as soon as the extent of damage can be determined.

Eisenhower also was expecting an on-the-spot report during the day from retired Gen. Alfred M. Gruentli, president of the American Red Cross.

"The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived from Washington late yesterday for a long weekend at their farm and celebration of their 41st wedding anniversary here Monday."

Eisenhower made a stab at a round of golf shortly after arrival here late yesterday, but he completed only the first hole. Storm clouds sent him scurrying back to the clubhouse and a torrential rain cut loose a moment later.

Governors Lash Out at Interest Rates

By JAMES BEAVER
WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—Governors of 34 states today lashed out at the Eisenhower administration that its tight money policy is pinching their efforts to finance school buildings and other capital expenditures.

In a unanimous resolution, the 49th annual Governors Conference as its windup yesterday voted that "bonds have been floated at higher and higher interest rates, thus increasing amortization costs."

It asked the President and Congress to "take cognizance of this additional burden on the taxpayers of America with a view of alleviating it."

The governors met Eisenhower's request for a joint study with his administration of federal-state relationships by providing for a committee to work with the administration. The President had suggested such a study with an eye to rolling back to the states functions and revenues now controlled in Washington.

The conference named Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois as its chairman and designated Florida—probably Boies Raton—for next year's get-together. Republican Stratton succeeds Democratic Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia.

Thirty-two governors, in an action outside the conference, sent a telegram yesterday to the President urging a reduction of oil imports from the present ratio of 22 per cent of America's national production to 18.6 per cent. At about the same time Eisenhower was creating a special Cabinet committee to study whether crude oil is being imported "in such quantities as to threaten to impair national security."

Organization of AIFC Completed

MORRILLTON, (UP)—Organization of the Arkansas Industrial Finance Corporation, authorized by the 1957 legislature to aid existing and new industries, was scheduled to be completed at Winrock farm today.

A 25-man steering committee, in charge of a drive to raise $100,000 as capital for the AIFC was in report on how much of the fund had been obtained through contributions.

About 80 of the state's industrial leaders were expected to attend the meeting.

The steering committee, headed by AIFC Chairman Winthrop Rockefeller and Herbert Thomas, Sr., Fayetteville insurance executive, was to be replaced by a board of directors to be elected as part of the meeting.

Plans call for $500,000 to be raised through sale of non-voting stock in the non-profit AIFC. The $1,000,000 is to be used as financial aid for industrial development.

Group Plans Some Way to Curb Justices

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee marked today an exploration of what can or should be done about controversial Supreme Court decisions which are drawing an increasingly explosive congressional cross-fire.

Senate comments on the court ranged from "power wild," "pro-communist" and "tyrannical" on the one side to "courageous" and "defender of freedoms" on the other. There also were warnings on the Senate floor about hasty, excited and abusive criticism of the court, in line with President Eisenhower's new conference on the subject.

When the Senate floor met yesterday, the new conference on the subject of the court's decisions was scheduled to begin.

These decisions, championing individual rights over the actions of some congressional and other public groups, have raised a cloud of uncertainty over congressional investigations of communism.

In some instances they have thrown secret FBI files open to inspection by defendants in trials. Some narcotics prosecutions and an income tax case already have been dropped to avoid disclosing the identity of secret informants and investigative techniques, and Justice Department sources said last night other cases may have to be dropped.

Members of Congress are tossing in bills to counteract the various Supreme Court rulings of which they are critical.

Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) said the Senate Judiciary Committee staff has been put to work studying them "to see what we can do." At this point, he said in an interview, he is unwilling to predict the outcome.

One Judiciary subcommittee is getting a quick start, tomorrow, on hearings on legislation to restrict "relevant" material the government must supply defendants in criminal cases. Atty. Gen. Brownell will testify.

Geo. Sanders in Half Hour on NBC Net

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Another "mystery" series would seem to be glutting an over-crowded market on summer television.

Nevertheless, George Sanders has begun bringing us a new half-hour series via NBC-TV these Saturday evenings. While there was not much of a mystery of the first offering, it's pleasant to see Sanders speaking of murder.

His chortling, pear-shaped tones and cynically raised brows are ideally suited to discussion of all "arms of mayhem." If his story material develops, this should be an entertaining series.

The first was about a virtuous fellow whose villainous wife trapped him in an elevator. He was such a nice guy that there was no question but what he'd escape—and so there was little suspense. Virtue triumphed, of course, and the cops nabbed the villainous lady. If villainy goes unpunished some day on one of these "suspense" programs, that series will have this viewer watching suspensefully for the duration of its run.

Speaking of a glutted market, another quiz program has returned. It is "Dollar a Second."

DOROTHY DIX Setp-Grandma Is Expected to Take Over Youngsters

Dear Dorothy Dix: Recently I married a man who, like myself, was widowed, and the parents of married children. We aren't happy largely because his children resent me. He has one daughter with quite a large family. Last week he brought her three young children to me and said I was to raise them. This is unthinkable. I'm 57, have raised my own five children and am too tired to begin again on someone else's family. He says if the babies go, he goes. — MRS. G. T.

Dear Mrs. G. T.: For the life of me, I can't understand why the mother of these babies is willing to hand them over to you, especially since you are a nervous person. I shouldn't think she'd be able to trust the kids to you.

Since your husband wants you to be a nursemaid to your step-grandchildren, it seems obvious that you must either do the job or get out.

Dear Dorothy Dix: What do you think of a man 60 who likes the company of 35-year-old women? — CURIOUS

Dear Curious: Almost everyone enjoys the company of younger people. The question of propriety arises only if the man's conduct among them is questionable.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Do you recommend a joint bank account for two young people who are engaged? — DOTTY

Dear Dotty: Joint bank accounts should be postponed until they can be opened as "Mr. and Mrs." accounts. Engagements can be

She's Juliet But She Likes Presley, Too

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's hard to imagine, but Claire Bloom, English beauty of "Romeo and Juliet" and other classics, is a fan of Elvis Presley.

"I love his singing; he has real rhythm," enthused the dark-haired actress. Since she was working at MGM in "The Brothers Karatrazov" while he was in the one side to "courageous" and "defender of freedoms" on the other.

The meeting was classic in itself. Elvis came forward eagerly, grasped Miss Bloom's hand in both of his and murmured, "Hello, honey, how old are you?"

The actress said she was so taken aback, she blurted, "oh, much older than you."

"Why, honey, you don't look much older than a teen-ager," he pondered a moment and added: "but then, you never can tell. Some of the crew on this picture look like young men, but they're 75 and 80 years old."

"That spoiled it!" Miss Bloom laughed as she told the story later. Her status as a Presley fan was shaken somewhat, but she confessed she still likes him — on records. And she added that she is 34 years older than his 22.

"The Brothers etc." is her first film for a major Hollywood studio, but not her first in Hollywood. She made her debut here a few years ago as Charlie Chaplin's leading lady in his last Hollywood film, "Limelight."

Now she's back to play the fiancée of Yul Brynner. She directs him in "The Brothers" after she is assumed to be Grushenka (Maria Schell).

Her first big break was playing Ophelia in a Stratford-on-Avon production of "Hamlet." She became one of England's finest young actresses, performing in many classics for the Old Vic company. She starred with the Old Vic in New York last season. Her biggest exposure before American audiences was repeating her "Romeo and Juliet" performance on NBC-TV.

PUBLISHER'S WIDOW DIES

MEMPHIS (AP)—Mrs. R. H. Waddell, 83, widow of an Arkansas newspaper publisher, died yesterday. Her husband, who died in 1940, owned newspapers in Batesville and Wynne, Ark.

which reappeared on NBC-TV Saturday.

This program has as many gimmicks as an atomic bomb. It tries so hard to be funny that it's exhausting. If your idea of an entertaining program is to see contestants dressed up in absurd costumes and required to play insane peculiarities for wrong answers to obvious questions, then this is just the show for you.

Jimmy Dean, who has acquired quite a following on his CBS-TV country music morning program, has entered night-time television for the summer, at least, CBS-TV Saturdays.

Either you like country music or you don't. If you like it, you presumably can tell the better from the worse. Dean and his outfit sound better to me than man I've heard. It's a fast-paced program, easily put together. You still come back to the question: Do you like country music?

Another "situation" comedy is now with us. "Date With the Angels" on ABC-TV (Fridays, 10 p.m., Eastern Daylight).

Copying the formula of "I Love Lucy," it concerns the life of a young married couple. It is badly married by the loudest canned laughter heard in some time at situations of remarkably puerile humor.

The Eyes Of All Arkansas And Of Industry Are On Hope Today!

Our New City Manager form of government will produce industrial growth and prosperity if successfully and unselfishly conducted.

The City Manager form of government is dependent on experienced and successful men chosen by the people. Candidates must be willing to give of their time, without pay of any kind, with the sole purpose of putting Hope back in its former position of being one of the most successful and prosperous cities in Arkansas with plenty of jobs for everyone.

Unlike the normal political races in the old Mayor form of government, there is no place for politics in this selection of candidates. Keeping in mind the extreme importance to all of us that our first Board of Directors be comprised of a representative group of qualified experienced citizens, we the undersigned submit the names of the following men to serve as our first Board of Directors and publicly indorse their candidacy.

Position No. 1 George Robison

Position No. 2 George Frazier

Position No. 3 Frank Douglas

Position No. 4 Roy Thrash

Position No. 5 Herbert Burns

Position No. 6 L. W. (Cap) Young

Position No. 7 Sam Andrews

And we urge each citizen of Hope to vote for the above men on Wednesday August 14 and prove to our neighbors that we are moving forward in a spirit of unity and co-operation.

Thought For The Day

LITTLE ROCK, June — (Special). Republicans admit they are worried over the long delay in nomination of a successor to resign federal District Judge Thomas Trimble for the Eastern District of Arkansas.

United States Attorney Osro Cobb managed to win from the Republican State Committee an unconditional endorsement, in spite of which no appointment has been forthcoming. Nearly thirty years ago, Wallace Townsend, now the Republican national committeeman, had that endorsement, but several disgruntled candidates kept up the fight against him. Result: Democrat John E. Martineau, then the governor, was given the nod.

Edward L. Wright, Little Rock lawyer who numbers Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. among his clients, was retained after W. R. Stephens gained control of the utility in 1954, is the focal figure in the move to thwart Cobb's ambition. The opposition is stressing what they represent to be superior training and experience of Democratic possibilities.

Although Mr. Wright is himself talked of as a potential appointee, he is ostensibly backing the application of Joe Barrett, Jonesboro lawyer. An organized campaign in the latter's behalf has produced many letters to the Department of Justice, and recently an American Bar Association representative came to Arkansas with the apparent purpose of strengthening the bid of Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Cobb has not been idle. He has enlisted help from Democratic lawyers, also. Occasionally, it is suggested that former Gov. Francis Cherry, currently a member of the U. S. Subversive Activities Control Board and a former chancellor, may still be in the running. He was prominently mentioned immediately after Judge Trimble announced his retirement.

Another who figured in the early speculation is Richard C. Butler, member of the Little Rock firm of House, Holmes, Butler & Jewell. What made his chances look propitious at the outset was the fact that his mother-in-law, Mrs. A. C. Remmel, is Republican, national committeewoman. The Republican argument against him was his more or less casual association with the party. Also regarded as a handicap was his firm's longtime representation of utilities, notably Arkansas Power and Light Co.

President Eisenhower will make the appointment, of course, but Senators McClellan and Fulbright can, if they choose, determine whether confirmation of the Senate will be forthcoming. Democrats are in a majority in the Senate, and even if they were not, no judge appointee to which the Arkansas senators seriously objected.

Philly Fans Haven't Gone South on Robin

Roberts, once the ace of the Philadelphia pitching staff, has a disappointing 6-9 record. Last year, after six straight 20-game seasons he won "only" 19 games and lost 12.

He has taken a pounding frequently this year. Pitching coach Whit Wyatt has suggested he not have his hand on any more and must develop another pitch. Manager Mayo Smith has been embarrassed by Roberts' relieving him when a weak-hitting pitcher was at bat.

Yes, things haven't gone to well with nice-guy Roberts, who for the most part has tried to grin and bear it.

So Philadelphia Bulletin columnist Earl and Anne Selby decided to try and give Robbie a lift. In their husband and wife column about happenings in the city, they issued an appeal last week for the fans to write in and say how they felt about Roberts.

The Selbys said they expected maybe 100 readers would take the time and trouble to write. Within two days more than 1,200 fans sent cards, letters and telegrams. There wasn't one knock against Robbie in the lot. And the messages are still coming.

Here are a few: "I have 13 grandsons, four sons-in-law, four daughters and one husband," said Mrs. Mary Mohr. "With me that equals 13 Robin Roberts fans no matter what the records say."

"Just keep trying Robbie," wrote Agnes Sangster. "The fans are with you 100 per cent. Children just love you and every 'Little League' I know wants to be just like you."

"Don't let the home run ball get you down," said one reader. "Toss one at someone's noggin."

President Eisenhower will make the appointment, of course, but Senators McClellan and Fulbright can, if they choose, determine whether confirmation of the Senate will be forthcoming. Democrats are in a majority in the Senate, and even if they were not, no judge appointee to which the Arkansas senators seriously objected.

SUBSTITUTE DOCTOR

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

Nan Stanfield owned one of the best boats on the river. It was not as big as the Copeland cabin cruiser, nor as filled with gadgets as some others, but it was a fine boat, just the same, with a smooth engine and good lines. Dr. Lillard had given this craft to her the summer before, shortly after her engagement to Kurt became a known thing.

She had often asked Garde to come with her on her boat but until this hot July afternoon something had always spoiled their plans. But this day — she had asked Garde when he came home about 2.

"How about a ride?" "Fine I'll change."

He did change, and quickly; well before 3 he was down at dockside with her, grinning at his yachting costume of blue jeans, striped T-shirt and canvas sneakers.

Bill Marquart and Frank McManus on the pier signaled their safe getaway. Garde settled himself on the "wide porch" and considered the fact that his costume in no way resembled their visored caps, white trousers and shoes. This shirt maybe approached theirs — Bill's was blue, Frank's was a checked sport shirt.

Garde took a deep breath. "Well," he said with satisfaction, "I'm on it!"

Nan glanced over her shoulder, laughing. "What was that?" And he told her. Of his first trip to Bayard, and the way he had leaned against Copeland's fence and had watched Nan and Valley working on this very boat.

"Some guy was helping you." She frowned in an effort to remember. Then did. "Oh, yes, Bob Sims."

She asked how the little baby clinic was going, and he told her. Way beyond our expectations — we're really busy, and some of it, of course, stops over on the other shore. I'm donating three A&T's to Cornell this week. With no cheers heard as yet. That's tonsillitomy.

"Thank you, Dr. Shelton. Valley told me that you talk a foreign language."

Garde sat up, then slipped to the seat beside her. "Poor Valley," he mused. "She's really taking a beating. I'm surprised that she sticks it."

"Not to Valley, you're not. She'd call that a foul suggestion!" Garde grinned. Yes, that would be Valley's comment.

"People have to fall for Valley," he continued. "And when they straighten ahead. And when they don't."

"I like Valley."

She shot him a look. His mouth was tight about the pipstern in his teeth. Deep lines creased his cheeks. "Garde" she asked,
